Will Butler Killed by a Knife Thrust
From Rebecca Howard

"Spencer Row" is credited with another tragedy. The shining attiletto did its work last night in the hands of Rebecca Howard, who put the light out in the heart of her "best man," Will Butler. The man had been drinking, and, during the evening, he missed a $5 bill, and accused his sweetheart of hypothecating it. She denied the allegation, which led to warm and bitter words, and to the blow that instantly ended Butler's life. Policemen Williams and Brizance were quickly on the scene, arrested the woman and put her in jail. No inquest was held over Butler's remains, as none was needed. Rebecca Howard will have her preliminary examination in a few days. She may be examined in a few days.

BETTER THAN GOLD

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a good tonic and invigorant for weak and nervous women. No other medicine could take the place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by the Anti-Monopoly Drugstore.

MAT'S WIFE MADE LOVE TO

HIM WITH A FLATIRON

Mat Hampton, who everybody knows as the driver of the Southern Express wagon, got into a domestic row last night. It seems that Mat, now and then, after his arduous day's labors are over, indulges in the "flowing bowl" to soothe his wearied frame. It seems that the bowl overflowed last night, and when this occurs Mat's "sweet temper" becomes sour and wrathful, and upon arriving at home in this beligerent state of mind, a domestic scene usually ensues. Last night was no exception. Not only did his wife join in the affray, but several of his sisters-in-law took a hand in combing out Mat's kinky locks. They did it in fine style, and the effect of the hot iron on his head is the best evidence that they not only held the fort but dislodged the enemy and routed him, saddle, boots and spurs.

Mat then went up town to seek an officer. He found Sheriff Nugent and Policeman Brizance, who went down to the scene of the late conflict, placed all four of them under a cash bond of $5, but as no one appeared in the police court this morning the bonds were estreated. Mat, though somewhat disgraced, is still in the ring, and can be seen as of yore on the express wagon.

NOT OVER-WISE

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl seated at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these

BEN BELL MARRIED TO A CHARMING ALABAMA GIRL

A quiet but an extremely pretty home wedding occurred yesterday at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ward, in West End. The contracting parties were Mr. R. B. Bell of Jacksonville, Fla., and Miss Lula Ward of this city.

Directly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bell were driven to the M. & O. station, where they took the train for their home in Jacksonville, Fla.

In yielding Mrs. Bell, Tuscaloosa loses one of this town's sweetest young women. She has been reared here and her childhood's friends have become the warm admirers of her more perfect womanhood. Personally charming and very accomplished she is characterized by a sweetness and gentleness that have made her much beloved and will cause her multitude of friends to regret that her home is not to be in Tuscaloosa, and to genuinely congratulate Mr. Bell.

Mr. Bell is a sterling gentleman of Jacksonville, who already has many Tuscaloosa friends. He was with the M. & O. last winter, but now holds a responsible position with the Jacksonville Terminal Co. The best wishes accompany him and his fair bride.—Tuscaloosa, Ala., Times-Gazette, July 20.

HELP THE HOSPITAL

We wish to call the attention of housekeepers to our line of fine Flavoring Extracts, which are first class in every respect, and absolutely full strength.

We give 10 per cent. of the purchase price to any charitable organization and you will find a coupon attached to each bottle.

Our idea in taking this method to introduce these goods is to help the Marion County Hospital. However, these coupons are made payable to "any charitable organization" and it rests entirely with the purchaser as to where the coupon goes.

The price of the extracts is 15 cents per bottle of One FULL Ounce and this quantity will go as far as some of the 25 cent bottles of so called "full strength" extracts.

Four flavors—Lemon, Vanilla, Strawberry and Pineapple.
